JAIME HAYON

At art'otel London Battersea Power Station, we consider every moment as an opportunity to inspire and delight. On the banks of the River Thames London, this is a place to dream in colour.

We love introducing you to our favourite artists and each art'otel serves as a blank canvas to its signature artist. At art'otel Battersea, Jaime Hayon is in control, complementing the décor in our public areas and guestrooms with sculptures, installations and furniture influenced by art, architecture, and design.

Recognised by Wallpaper Magazine as one of the most influential creators of the past decade, and lauded as a 'visionary' and one of the most creative icons by Times magazine, Jaime Hayon brings his artistic vision and flair to London.

Fusing the interior design of the hotel with paintings, prints, photography, sculptures and tapestry, Hayon has created a unique identity for the hotel that is set to inspire, intrigue and excite our guests and visitors.

Experience his vision throughout the hotel, including in our public Art Gallery, housed within our Grand Café.

“I was very excited to develop the interior design for art'otel London Battersea Power Station, which is set to become a new hub for art and creativity. The leading role of art at the hotel makes this a unique prospect to explore the interaction between art, product and interior design.”
